

MAXWELL FAMILY STATEMENT

15 July 2025

For Immediate Release

By Justice@RealGhislaine.com

Our sister Ghislaine did not receive a fair trial. Her legal team continues to fight her case in the Courts and will file its reply in short order to the Government's opposition in the US Supreme Court. If necessary, in due course they will also file a writ of habeas corpus in the US District Court, SDNY. This allows her to challenge her imprisonment on the basis of new evidence such as government misconduct that would have likely changed the trial's outcome.

Following the government's response, David Oscar Markus, Counsel of record for our sister in her Petition to the United States Supreme Court, had this comment:

"I'd be surprised if President Trump knew his lawyers were asking the Supreme Court to let the government break a deal. He's the ultimate dealmaker—and I'm sure he'd agree that when the United States gives its word, it should keep it.

With all the talk about who's being prosecuted and who isn't, it's especially unfair that Ghislaine Maxwell remains in prison based on a promise the US government made and broke".

These are sentiments with which we profoundly concur.
